

Living in a rural area where normal broadcast radio is tenuous at best, and many times non-existent, we have come to rely on satellite radio. Limiting its ability to broadcast would truly be denying those of us who have become dependent on it. You have already cut us off from network television via satellite. Here we are in Massachusetts, unable to receive Boston broadcasts - only NY